Deborah Kitchen Announces The Launch of Her New Book 'EXPOSED'

Nashville, TN, December 4th, 2022: Aspiring author Deborah Burris Kitchen announces the launch of her new book, EXPOSED, An uncensored, raw critique of America's political, economic, and class structure, Exposed is an in-your-face real-as-dirt critique of American society in real-time.

This memoir of short stories and poetry transports the reader through a journey of unfiltered versions of love and social injustice through the eyes of a sociologist.

Exposed takes the reader on an expedition highlighting her struggle to find love and earn respect as she crashes against wave after wave of toxic masculinity. She lays bare women's victimization as they continue to fight for empowerment and equality. In the final chapter, her poetic words of protest tear down the iron curtain exposing all the inequities of the American Caste system with a desire to provoke social change.

Dr. Deborah beautifully delivers an unblinking look at the problems of our current democracy and, more importantly, the justice system to get ourselves back on course. It calls out the actors who played their role in the social divide and identifies the many places where changes are much needed.

EXPOSED powerfully shows a variety of feelings people undergo when facing social injustice. Hope and optimism are prevalent, but it does not shy away from the harsh reality of tragic outcomes.

EXPOSED is now available for purchase on Amazon. Click here to get your copy.
